Bryan Oliver is a Principal at Cresa and has been exclusively representing tenants since 2007. Bryan is focused on evaluating leasehold interest, locating site acquisition opportunities (including lease, purchase, and build-to-suit) and creating restructure and relocation alternatives through the development of strategic plans and keen negotiation tactics. Bryan provides leverage and strategic thinking for his clients to achieve the best space solution.

Bryan is a graduate of Arizona State University and currently lives in Bellevue, WA with his wife Candace, and their four children Tadem (13), Kason (12), Bella (5) and Beckham (3)
