

Benjamin Kirnie

Senior Advisor
Upstate New York

Professional Experience

As a senior advisor, Ben provides real estate solutions for office and industrial occupiers across upstate New York. He works in tandem with seasoned real estate veterans to provide valuable data and analyses that help his clients make informed decisions that align with their business objectives. His business acumen and transparency with clients is the foundation for long-standing, trusting partnerships. With his strong background working with industrial clients, Ben will focus on that sector in New York.

Prior to joining Cresa, Ben worked for Cushman and Wakefield/Pyramid Brokerage Company in Rochester, NY where he represented tenants, landlords, buyers and sellers for industrial, office and retail properties. During that time, he managed more than 1.5 million square feet of transactions. Prior to that, he worked for Tenantbase and Marcus & Millichap in Los Angeles mostly servicing industrial needs.
