

John Coakley

Managing Principal
Boston

Professional Experience

As a life sciences leader for Cresa's Boston office and national practice, John works with emerging and established organizations to help them develop and implement effective real estate strategies. While he is focused primarily in Cambridge, Boston, and the inner suburbs, John has a number of multi-market clients that have expanded his practice around the country. Since joining Cresa, John has played an essential role in growing the team and suite of services to become the preeminent partner in life sciences real estate.

Education

John received a Bachelor of Science in Marketing from Fairfield University in 2000.

Affiliations

John is an active member of the Boston Commercial Brokers Association (CBA), National Association of Industrial and Office Properties (NAIOP) and CoreNet Global. Within Cresa Boston, he is a member of the Charity Committee.

Personal Interests

Outside of work, John enjoys spending time with his family and getting outdoors for activities like skiing, biking, tennis and golf.
