

Miles Van Denburg

GIS Analyst
Boston

Professional Experience

Miles is a problem solver, passionate about innovation and extracting insights hidden within data through customized approaches that maximize efficiency and produce quality output. He collaborates with our advisory, account, and service line teams to help define project requirements and create best-in-class deliverables for our clients and prospects as it relates to GIS, mapping, and research efforts.

Education

Miles received his Bachelor of Arts in 2016 from DePaul University in Chicago, with a major in Anthropology & Archaeology and a minor in Spanish. In 2021, he received his Master of Science at Clark University in Geographic Information Science.

Affiliations

Miles is a member of American Association of Geographers and the New England Chapter of the Urban and Regional Information Systems Association where has hosted "Mapathons" - crowdsourced mapping events for under-represented regions in the world.

Personal Interests

Miles loves to be outdoors and is a passionate hiker, biker, and runner. When not outdoors, he is an aspiring brewer and beer enthusiast; a music lover and bassist for 10+ years; film and history geek; as well as a podcast head and true crime nerd.

Contact

773.931.2775 mobile
mvandenburg@cresa.com