

Jacqueline Loftis

Principal, Project Management Chicago

Professional Experience

Jacqueline Loftis is a seasoned professional with over 25 years of experience in sales and business development environments within the construction and project management arena. She brings a proven track record of exceptional business practices and a dedication to delivering an outstanding client experience. Prior to Cresa, as Director of Business Development at Coolsys, she played a pivotal role in driving the company's business growth, securing new clients, and expanding the firm's presence around the globe. Her attention to detail, technical background, and ability to connect with clients have been instrumental in her success in the world of construction. She previously worked at Sevan Multi-Site Solutions managing large, multi-site clients.

Contact

630.618.0608 mobile
jloftis@cresa.com