

Ted Collins

Vice President, Program Manager Chicago

Professional Experience

Ted Collins joined Cresa in 2025 as Vice President, Program Manager, bringing over 25 years of experience. Previously, Ted held roles including Director of U.S. Construction and Corporate Treasurer. In these positions, he led companies and their teams on projects across the continental United States. Project types he has overseen include restaurant, pharmacy, retail, oil change, veterinary, industrial, K-12 education, nursing home, and high-rise residential.

A majority of Ted's program work involves guiding clients through the full development cycle, turning ideas into fully realized projects. He has been instrumental in this process for many clients, including notable brands such as Starbucks and McDonald's. He is also able to scale programming work to fit client needs, from just a few sites per year to large, multi-site programs.
