

David Stringfield

Managing Principal Investment Banking & Capital Markets

Professional Experience

David F. Stringfield serves as Managing Principal and Co-Head of Cresa Capital Markets which focuses on structuring and implementing real estate finance transactions for Cresa clients. His team applies creative advisory, transaction management, deal structuring and marketing expertise to deliver capital solutions for corporate clients.

David has more than 30 years of experience advising corporate occupiers and has been with Cresa since 2003. Prior to that, he co-led Staubach Financial Services, the investment banking arm of the Staubach Company. While there he helped establish Wolverine Holding Company, a leader within the sale-leaseback industry.

Throughout his career David has managed transactions in excess of $8 billion for companies such as Kraft Heinz, L3/Harris, Marriott International, Medtronic plc and Ocean Spray Cranberries.
