

Marcus Hanlon, AIA

Senior Architect/Project Manager Workplace Solutions

Professional Experience

Marcus is a hands-on, client-focused architect who is committed to the success of every project. He enjoys working with clients, consultants, contractors, and jurisdictions to make each project a smooth process. Through his 25-plus year career, Marcus is well-versed in all phases of the architectural process: feasibility studies, field surveys, schematic design, construction documents, contract administration, and close out. He's also well experienced in new construction, renovation, additions, and tenant improvement project delivery. His diverse commercial experience has included financial, medical, retail, corporate office, recreational, religious, and campus environments.
