

RACHEL TRICE

Senior Vice President, Finance

Strategic Financial Planning & Analysis, Corporate Finance, Financial Reporting & Compliance, Risk Management, Data-Driven Decision Making, Operational Finance

Rachel brings a strong foundation in consulting and banking to Cresa, combining analytical rigor with a disciplined approach to problem-solving. As a Corporate Finance Advisor, she evaluates the financial impact of real estate decisions on an organization's overall performance, helping clients align their real estate strategies with broader business objectives. Her work emphasizes flexibility, cost efficiency, and long-term value creation.

Prior to joining Cresa, Rachel served as a mergers and acquisitions analyst at National City Corporation, where she developed deep experience in financial analysis and transaction support. She also spent time at Accenture as a senior consultant, contributing to financial systems implementations and driving business process improvements for a range of corporate clients.
