

Frank Palestini

Vice President

Professional Experience

Frank specializes in understanding the unique requirement challenges that emerging and established technology and life science companies face. Frank has worked with groups requiring biology/chemistry labs, clean rooms, vibration isolation, specialized power distribution, and manufacturing capabilities. He uses his experience and intimate market knowledge to develop and implement creative approaches to his clients' real estate needs that parallel their business models and goals.

Prior to embarking on his career in commercial real estate, Frank proudly served as an officer in the United States Army for seven years. Drawing from this experience, Frank brings an outstanding work ethic and determination. His attention to detail and preparedness coupled with his integrity and loyalty put his clients at ease, knowing that their needs are his objectives.
