

JAMES L. FISH

Principal

Downtown Los Angeles

For over 30 years, Jim has specialized in representing tenants on a local and national basis. He began his real estate career with Travers Cresa and over the course of his career has represented major corporations and professional office space users in transactions totaling over 5 million square feet in all major markets nationwide. Jim personally oversees all aspects of the real estate process including site selection, lease negotiations, financial analysis, legal review, strategic planning, space dispositions, and national portfolios. He is known for his “hands on” commitment to superior client service, creativity, attention to detail, and his strong negotiating skills.

Alex is a member of Cresa’s Emerging Leadership Council – a select team that develops and executes on company-wide professional, developmental and cultural initiatives. He also serves as a Board Member of Cresa Cares, a 501c3 organization with the purpose of impacting communities across the globe through volunteer initiatives and financial donations.
