Managing Principal

Los Angeles

David Kimball is a seasoned commercial real estate advisor with over 28 years of experience guiding clients through office, industrial, and land transactions. David leads the growth initiative for Cresa's portfolio clients in the Greater Los Angeles region. Since 1997, he has provided strategic guidance to occupiers across a broad range of industries, both nationally and globally. Known for his meticulous attention to detail and thoughtful approach, David excels at developing efficient corporate real estate standards, solving complex challenges, and creating meaningful cost-saving strategies.

Clients value David for his responsiveness, integrity, and long-term commitment—traits that have earned him lasting relationships and a loyal portfolio of global tenants. His conflict-free representation model ensures alignment with client goals and positions him as a trusted partner to organizations of all sizes.

Before Cresa, David was a broker and managed the West Los Angeles office of NAI Capital, he had spent nearly two decades at Savills, and five years at DTZ (now Cushman & Wakefield). Earlier in his career, he served as Southwest Regional Manager at Pioneer Electronics and prior, worked as an engineer for Rocketdyne, contributing to the International Space Station and Space Shuttle Main Engine programs.

AFFILIATIONS, AWARDS & ACTIVITIES

In his free time, David contributes to his community as an active Trustee for Westside Neighborhood School in Playa Vista. He also enjoys playing tennis, pickleball, biking, golfing, skiing, and traveling.

David received an award from AIR for the largest Los Angeles office transaction.

EDUCATION

David received his Bachelor of Science in Engineering from California State University, Northridge.
