

Davis Oren

Advisor
Downtown Los Angeles

Professional Experience

Davis supports the Cresa team in providing corporate real estate throughout Southern California in lease negotiations, acquisitions and dispositions, lease auditing, strategic development and implementation of occupancy strategies, and advanced lease relocations and renewals. His deep understanding of the Southern California market, attention to detail, and thorough comprehension of all real estate transaction components has given Davis the opportunity to create an incredible client roster.

For Davis and his multi-market clients with large real estate portfolios, Cresa's global platform gives him the resources and tools necessary to help regional, national and international clients meet their multi-market requirements.

Before joining Cresa, Davis founded Barhero which was acquired by Airtab. Throughout this process Davis developed and executed the socializing app with over 150 business accounts and was responsible for investor relations, sales forecasting, and monetization.
