

Andrew Fleckenstein

Advisor
Los Angeles

Professional Experience

Andrew Fleckenstein has always had a passion for working on client-focused transactions. Prior to his role joining Cresa, Andrew worked at Hughes Marino, where he represented tenants and buyers in their commercial real estate transactions to help them achieve their business objectives.

Andrew began his career at William Morris Endeavor (WME/IMG), a leading global entertainment agency representing clients across the entertainment world, where he reported to the digital department's head of Personal Appearance, representing YouTube, Instagram and other nontraditional talent. He also held internships in investment banking, commercial banking and commercial real estate.

Affiliations

Andrew is a member of the LA Chapter's YPO Next Generation.

Education

Andrew received his B.S. degree in finance and a minor in business management from DePaul University. Additionally, he studied abroad at the Westminster Business School in London, UK with a focus on international finance.

Contact

310.943.5173 office
310.405.1956 mobile
afleckenstein@cresa.com
BRE #02074971