

David Toomey

Principal
Los Angeles

Professional Experience

Dave has spent his 30-year real estate career helping media and technology companies solve their real estate needs. His experience has included managing the real estate needs of numerous global companies such as Universal Studios, IAC/Interactive Corp, and eBay. Locally, Dave is a recognized leader in the Los Angeles media and technology sector, representing hundreds of emerging and middle market companies.

Dave has a passion for the Los Angeles media and technology sector, and his network of relationships within it is extremely robust. He goes out of his way to make introductions that will help media and tech companies succeed, knowing that successful companies will eventually have a real estate need he might be able to solve.
