

Matt Collins

Director

Melbourne, Victoria

Professional Experience

Often dealing with sensitive and commercially vital issues, Matt seeks to provide clear, strategic real estate advice to clients while adding value to every transaction. His key focus areas include occupier strategy, transaction management and project feasibility. He is skilled in negotiating complex transactions, managing client relationships and detailed analysis of projects.

Matt began his property career in 2002. Over time, he has built a strong understanding of key market fundamentals and is regarded by his clients as a trusted advisor able to meet and exceed their business requirements.
