

Adam Talbot

Vice President

South Florida

Professional Experience

A native South Floridian with deep roots in commercial real estate, Adam is a highly-motivated, energetic and confident individual focused on building trusted relationships with local business owners and corporate enterprise leaders. Adam has a strong passion for helping his clients manage both growth and contraction of their businesses by making informed, forward-looking decisions and by seizing upon lucrative market opportunities.

In 2020, Adam joined the Miami office as a vice president specializing in occupier representation for office and industrial occupiers in Miami-Dade, Broward and Palm Beach counties. His expertise includes corporate advisory services, lease negotiation, asset acquisition and disposition, real estate consulting and business development.

Prior to joining Cresa, Adam was a member of Cushman & Wakefield's South Florida Industrial & Land Team where he also specialized in occupier representation.
