

Stephanie Baldner

Project Management Orlando

Professional Experience

Stephanie studied architecture while in school and comes to Cresa with a background in real estate and design. Once a member of one of Hawaii's top producing residential real estate teams, her design experience flourished through staging homes and consulting on renovations to maximize her Client's return on their real estate investments. Her interest in commercial real estate and project management grew after being asked to consult on a few commercial office projects. Stephanie joined Cresa after moving back to the Orlando area and works alongside Senior Project Manager, Gary Klein.

Affiliations

Stephanie was a past volunteer with Pop Warner's Mid-Florida Association and served as the Family Readiness Group Leader for her husband's unit while he served in the US Army.

Education

Stephanie attended University of Central Florida.
