Brooke is professional, detail oriented, and creative. We were a few months into a 20,000 sq. foot build out when she came on to our project. From day one, she was on top of all aspects of design and construction. No question or detail was too small for her to research and give us an informed answer. When we were at decision points, she provided clear advice and direction. We finished on schedule and under budget, and at the end of the project we got a surprise. We were wondering how to place and hang the law firm's artwork, and Brooke volunteered and made an already great space look even better. Managing a construction project can be stressful, but it was always a pleasure to work with Brooke. Our offices are special because of the personal attention and touch that she provided, and we recommend her without reservation."
