

Carly Barwick

Research Analyst

Professional Experience

Carly is Cresa's Research Analyst for the Washington, DC metropolitan region. Prior to joining Cresa, Carly spent two years at the leading online commercial real estate database, CoStar, where she gained experience in the industry and enhanced her skill set. Her knowledge complements the work of Cresa advisors, to which she provides leading market insights. Her wide range of research responsibilities include the creation of quarterly regional market reports, white papers and client-specific market analyses.

Education

Carly received her Bachelors of Arts in Business Management from Goucher College in Baltimore, Maryland.

Contact

202.628.0300 office
cbarwick@cresa.com